

Mrs. Doris Ann Page was born September 26, 1960 in Marion County, South Carolina. She was the youngest daughter of the late Frank Gillians and Ruth Juanita Gillians. She was called to heaven on Tuesday, January 3, 2017.

Doris was educated in the public schools of Marion County, South Carolina and graduated from Benjamin Franklin Sr. High School in Rochester, New York in the class of 1979.

She was married in 1996 and was a devoted wife and mother. Doris always told family and friends to serve and dedicate their lives to God.

Doris loved fishing, gardening and was very involved in the church. She was a faithful and devoted believer in the service and work of the Lord for over thirty years. She work in the Marion County School District for thirty years or more, she loved and supported her family at all times.

She was preceded in death by her father, mother and her son: Tyrone Elton Simmons and a brother Alden "Bobby" Porter.

Doris is survived by her husband: Johnny Ray Page; two sons: Daniel Elijah (Diana) Simmons of Latta, South Carolina, Caleb Page; special friend: (Dalasia Nash) both of Myrtle Beach, South Carolina; one daughter: Elizabeth Ann Gillians; special friend (Craig Beckett) both of Columbia, South Carolina; brother: Frank (Trina) Gillians of Marion, South Carolina; two sisters: Ruthie (Daryl) Burke of Rochester, New York and Mary Gillians of Lake City, South Carolina; her second Mom: Mrs. Penny Mae Carmichael and church family all of who will miss her dearly and a host of grandchildren, nieces, nephews, other relatives and friends.