

Mother Victoria Campbell McLellan was born on January 22, 1920 in Rowland, North Carolina to the late Lonnie and Ida Johnson McNeil.

“Miss Vic” as she was affectionately referred was employed at South Robeson Sewing Factory as an Inspector. She was also employed as a culinary assistance at Gordon Middle School from where she retired in 1981. A staunch member of Manning Baptist Church where she was united with the Church family during the early 1950s; she was active on the Nurses’ Aide and a member of the Senior Choir, she made rehearsals and was faithful until the end.

On December 12, 1954, she was married to the late Boston McLellan.

Her Fraternal organizations included: The Order of Eastern Star, Prince Hall Affiliation for more than fifty years. She was presented her fifty years pin and plaque in 2006 by Worthy Matron Doris Covington, she was the star in the East, the Mutual Aid Society where she was still an active Servant of God, well done.

Along with her husband, two brothers preceded her in death: Johnny McNeil and Arthur McDaugald.

Mother Vic leaves to remember her good deeds, generous, kindness, loving expressions, her willingness to lend a helping hand not only to family, but to others: her son: Lawrence Campbell and an adopted son: Jerome (Samantha) Davis; grandchildren: Terrana Thompson, Jackie and Thaddus Oates; great grands: Antonia, Mallory, Demarco Tolbert, Mickel Tolbert, a very special cousin: Joan Hall; god children: Elizabeth Rogers and Carlee and a host of other relatives and friends.